

Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACE) Study

Zoe Lyons, Department of Health and Human Services, and Robert Powell, PhD, Chief Executive Officer, Family Service and Children's Aid, will present on Understanding Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs). The biologic impact of ACEs transcends the traditional boundaries of health and human services and the impact is enormous. The public health impact of ACEs cannot be ignored. Thus, with this information comes the responsibility to use it. The goal of the training will be to focus on ACEs education, neurobiology, resilience and community empowerment. This program will provide insight into the everyday experiences children and parents face and how those experiences result in trauma that will have long lasting impact.

Please note that this presentation will take approximately 90 minutes, so we will be starting at 11:30 am. Please be prompt.
